

Technical Assessment: Tandem Photovoltaics

Abstract: This automated report explores Tandem efficiency metrics.

Experimental Results: Initial calibration runs yielded a baseline conversion of 21.2%. Following optimization of the anti-reflective coating, a secondary measurement of 44.1% was observed. Under extreme uncalibrated conditions, the system logged a peak of 58.3%, which is currently under peer review for potential measurement artifacts.