

Technical Assessment: Organic PV Photovoltaics

Abstract: This automated report explores Organic PV efficiency metrics.

Experimental Results: Initial calibration runs yielded a baseline conversion of 13.5%. Following optimization of the anti-reflective coating, a secondary measurement of 33.0% was observed. Under extreme uncalibrated conditions, the system logged a peak of 38.1%, which is currently under peer review for potential measurement artifacts.